Getting to know new people and places is an exciting experience and opens ones horizons beyond compare. We look forward to welcoming you and sincerely hope your stay in Austria will be a pleasant and rewarding one.

This guide was primarily conceived with Erasmus students in mind though we have tried our best to deal with the relevant issues for all incoming students and to eliminate every obstacle on your way to the University of Innsbruck. We are here to lend a helping hand whenever necessary. There is however always room for improvement and we are grateful for your suggestions.

I. General Information

Geography

Austria lies at the very heart of southern Central Europe having common borders with eight other countries and covers a total area of 84.000 km² making it a little larger than Scotland and smaller than Portugal. Austria is 590 km long east-west and 290 km north-south at its broadest point. The landscape varies considerably. Two thirds of the country are dominated by the Eastern Alps, these being heavily wooded. In the alpine foreland forests are replaced to a great extent by arable land, especially on the northern edge of the Alps. In the Pannonian region of East Austria scrub and heath land are characteristic. To the very east Lake Neusiedl in Burgenland shows typical salt steppe flora. The Danube flows some 350 km (220 miles) through Austria on its way to the Black Sea. In the west the Rhine forms part of the border as does Lake Constance. The highest mountain is the Grossglockner with 3.797m (12,465 ft).

Climate

Austria lies in the Central European transitional climatic zone, with prevailing west-northwest winds. In West Austria temperature fluctuations are more moderate between day and night and between summer and winter than in the East, where a more continental Pannonian climate prevails. Rain and snowfall is adequate throughout the year, decreasing gradually west to east. The higher mountain regions are dominated by the characteristic features of the alpine climate (high precipitation, short summers and long winters). A special feature of our alpine weather is the „Föhn“, a warm, gusty storm-wind which plunges into the valleys of the northern Alps, especially in spring and autumn. Innsbruck is a well-known „Föhn“ area with roughly 64 „Föhn“ days a year. Innsbruck has cold to very cold winters (temperatures can sink below 20o), hopefully with lots of snow, and warm to hot summers (temperatures can climb to +30o), hopefully with lots of sunshine.

Population

With 8.45 million inhabitants (100,2 per km²) Austria is thinly populated compared to other European countries. This is due to the fact that 60 % of the Alps are uninhabited. Half the population lives in cities, almost 20 % of them in Vienna, the capital. Other major cities are Linz, Graz, Salzburg and Innsbruck. 98 % of the Austrian population speak German as their native language. Six ethnic groups are officially recognized living mainly in border areas. According to Austrian law every young person over the age of fourteen can choose his or her religion freely. At the moment roughly 74% of the Austrian population are Roman Catholic and 8% are Protestant.

Government

Until 1918 Austria was an empire then becoming a republic. Austria is geographically and politically divided into nine provinces governed by a parliamentary democracy. The Austrian Federal Parliament consists of two houses: 1. The „Nationalrat“ (National Council) in which at the moment five parties are represented: Socialist Party (SPÖ), People's Party (ÖVP), Freedom Party (FPÖ), the Greens (Grüne) and the Alliance for the Future (BZÖ). These members are elected by the populace for a period of four years. 2. The „Bundesrat“ (Federal Council) into which the members are appointed by the individual provinces.

The „Neutrality Act“ of 26 October 1956 bound Austria to permanent neutrality. On 1 January 1995 Austria entered the European Union after approval by the Austrian people by means of a referendum.

I. General Information

City of Innsbruck

The name „Innsbruck“ originates from a bridge over the River Inn, first built in the 12th Century. Developing due to its opportune geographical position Innsbruck has always been an important junction of trade routes both north-south and east-west. These routes have since become an enormous burden to the population because of the environmental pollution caused.

Archaeological excavations have confirmed settlements as far back as the Stone Age. The Roman fortification Veldidena (now the Innsbruck district Wilten) was built where the road from the Brenner Pass reaches the Inn Valley. In 1239 Innsbruck was granted city status with the respective rights. In 1363 the province Tyrol became part of Austria. A heyday followed climaxing in the reign of Emperor Maximilian I (1459-1519) who made Innsbruck to the main place of residence for the Habsburg family. The world famous „Goldene Dachl“ (Golden Roof) in the old town centre reminds of him. He had it erected on the occasion of his marriage with Bianca Maria Sforza of Milan. While still alive he made plans for his final place of rest in the Hofkirche with its famous oversized bronze statues „Schwarze Mander“ (the Black Knights).

Ferdinand II and his wife Philippine Welsper made the town a cultural focal point. The finest pieces of his collections can be seen in Schloss Ambras (Ambras Castle). Under the Bavarian rule of Tyrol (1806-1814) battles of liberation were fought, the most famous was on the Bergisel in Innsbruck under the leadership of the national hero Andreas Hofer.

Tyrol has always been a popular destination for tourists. The capital city Innsbruck with its 120.000 inhabitants (+ over 30.000 students) is surrounded by a picturesque panorama of mountain peaks, several of which can be reached by cable cars offering a superb view of Innsbruck and the surrounding area. The Innsbruck region gives abundant leisure opportunities all year round. In summer mountain-climbing, hiking, mountain-biking, rafting, canyoning and paragliding, in winter downhill and cross-country skiing, ice-skating, snowboarding and even bobsleighing on the Olympic run at Igls.

The name Innsbruck has been synonymous with winter sports since it hosted the Winter Olympics in 1964 and 1976 as well as the Winter Youth Olympic Games 2012.

As a popular venue for congresses, trade shows and cultural performances Innsbruck attracts many visitors, including well-known artists and musicians. Thanks to the ever-growing number of young people and the young-at-heart Innsbruck has developed an interesting „scene“ over the last years. There are therefore a number of cultural initiatives, theatre groups and, of course, a good number of student „hang-outs“ and cafés. From classical to techno – there's something for everyone in Innsbruck.

How to get to Innsbruck

Innsbruck is easily reached by train, plane and car and offers extensive public transport. From the airport you can take the bus „F“ (every 15 minutes) into the town centre which passes the University main building on the way. If you come by car please note that you must buy a road tax sticker „Vignette“ in order to use Austrian motorways and that long-term parking is extremely difficult (and expensive) in Innsbruck.

II. University of Innsbruck

General description

With over 4400 members of staff and 27.000 students the University of Innsbruck is west Austria's largest institution of higher education and research and serves as the home university for Tyrol, Vorarlberg, South Tyrol and Liechtenstein. Due to the geographical position an emphasis in research and study programmes can be found on social, ecological and economic issues of the alpine region.

The University of Innsbruck is one of Austria's oldest universities. Its history goes back to the year 1562, when a Jesuit secondary school was founded in Innsbruck. Emperor Leopold I founded a „real“ university on October 15 1669, ensuring its continued funding by imposing a special tax on salt mined in Hall, known as the „Hall Salt Surcharge“. Eight years later, in 1677, the official charter was signed and four faculties of higher learning were established. The following 150 years saw turmoil and change. The city of Innsbruck twice lost the privilege of having its own university. Emperor Franz I restored this privilege and 1826 saw the final re-opening of the Faculty of Philosophy and the Faculty of Law. Step by step the other faculties were also re-opened. Since then the University has its name „Leopold-Franzens-Universität Innsbruck“ and many new faculties have been added.

The Faculty of Medicine became the Medical University of Innsbruck on January 1 2004.

Four professors of the University of Innsbruck received the Nobel Prize during the 20th century: Fritz Pregl for developing techniques in microanalysis of organic compounds, Adolf Windaus for discovering the composition of sterols and their relation to vitamins, Hans Fischer for synthesizing hemin, and Victor Franz Hess for discovering cosmic radiation.

II. University of Innsbruck

Higher Education in Austria

The oldest university is the University of Vienna, founded in 1365 by Duke Rudolf IV. In Austria all universities were state institutions, however private universities have been opened since 1999. The universities of Vienna, Graz and Innsbruck are called „full“ universities offering a complete study programme with faculty structure. Vienna University is with 91.000 students not only the largest Austrian university but also one of the largest universities in Europe. The newer universities in Linz, Salzburg and Klagenfurt do not have so broad a scope of study programmes. There are also technical universities in Vienna and Graz as well as a number of specialized universities such as the Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration or the Montan University of Leoben, for mining and engineering, as well as several Academies of Art and Music. On January 1 2004 the Faculties of Medicine in Vienna, Graz and Innsbruck were made Medical Universities.

In 1993 a new type of higher education was introduced in the form of universities of applied sciences (Fachhochschulen). These offer a more practice-orientated education of university standard, above all in the fields of business, tourism, technology, telecommunications and administration. The minimum duration of these studies is three years.

Academic Structure and Titles

At present it is possible to study one of over 150 different subjects in Austria. We distinguish between bachelor, master, diploma studies (Magister/Magistra) and PhD studies.

During the last years bachelor and master study programmes have been introduced according to the Bologna standards.

Bachelor studies last 3 / 4 years. At least 2 bachelor papers have to be written and the title is gained by passing the bachelor examination.

Bachelor of Arts (BA) / Bachelor of Science (BSc)

Master studies, lasting 2 years, can only be undertaken after completion of Bachelor studies. Emphasis is laid on the Master thesis and it ends with a master (viva voce) examination.

Master of Arts (MA) / Master of Science (MSc)

Diplom-Ingenieur (Dipl.-Ing.) for students of Engineering, Architecture, Technical Maths

Doctorate studies usually last 3 years and follow after diploma or master studies. They end with a dissertation and doctorate (viva voce) examination.

Doktor/in (PhD / Dr. techn.)

Master of Advanced Studies (MAS) and Master of Business Administration (MBA) are titles awarded after finishing special study programmes offered by the university.

Academic Calendar

The Academic Calendar including exact dates can be found here http://www.uibk.ac.at/studienabteilung/en/termine_und_fristen-en.html. The academic year is divided into two semesters: the first is approx 1st October - 31st January and the second is approx 1st March – 30th June with Christmas, Easter and Whit holidays. Please note that in February there are no lectures, although exams may be held. The Erasmus Welcome is on the first day of each semester at 17.00 in the Aula of the main University building.

Studies/Courses

Most of the courses are held in German. A full list of studies at the University of Innsbruck can be found under: <http://www.uibk.ac.at/studium/angebot/>

Detailed information about the courses can be found on our University website:

http://orawww.uibk.ac.at/public_prod/owa/lfuonline_lv.home for the course catalogue. Should the information for the coming semester not be available please use the information of the current year as a general guideline and contact your Departmental Coordinator in Innsbruck for confirmation. At the University of Innsbruck the system is fairly flexible, but participation in courses may be subject to preconditions or restrictions in some cases.

Teaching System

The teaching system is defined by various types of courses: lectures (VO), practical exercises (UE), a combination of lecture and practical exercise (VU), proseminars (PS) and seminars (SE) which last one semester. Many lectures are held in units of two hours a week (1 hour = 45 minutes). Registration is not always necessary for lectures and attendance may not be mandatory but advisable. Practical exercises vary depending on the subject, the emphasis is on active participation. Seminars are mainly group discussions on an advanced level. Students write and present papers which serve as a basis for discussion. In proseminars students acquire basic knowledge of work on academic/scientific papers by active participation.

The ECTS system is used in all bachelor and master programmes.

Assessment is made by either an oral / written exam or by a paper. The assessment is given in following grades: 1 very good, 2 good, 3 satisfactory, 4 sufficient, 5 not sufficient/fail.

III. Admission Procedures

Admission for Erasmus and Exchange students

If you are coming to Innsbruck within the Erasmus programme you must be officially nominated by your home Erasmus Coordinator. An online application is available on the website <http://www.uibk.ac.at/international-relations/erasmus/incoming/application.html>. Since you will be coming within the framework of an exchange programme simpler application modalities are implemented. Together with your online application (printed before submitting) you send the Erasmus certificate (=official nomination), a copy of your passport and your CV to our office. A Learning Agreement can be sent with the application or later. After processing by our Admission Department you receive the Letter of Acceptance directly from this department.

Deadline is July 31 for the first and December 31 for the second semester. We strongly advise you to send your complete application forms as soon as possible to avoid complications.

Admission for Non-exchange students

The Admission Department is responsible for your acceptance at the University of Innsbruck. You will find all the details and conditions for admission here <http://www.uibk.ac.at/studium/>. There are many differences depending on which country you are from and what you wish to study. Please see <http://www.uibk.ac.at/studium/anmeldung-zulassung/checkliste>

Please read the regulations very carefully, by doing so and by including all the documents required, you will save yourself time and problems. You must have proof of sufficient knowledge of German (an official language certificate e.g. Goethe Institute) or otherwise take an exam in German at the beginning of semester to be able to register as a regular student. Exceptions are possible for those coming within a Master Programme held completely in English.

Tuition Fees for non-exchange students

Regular students from EU/EEA states, Switzerland, convention refugees and third country nationals with a long-term permit are freed of tuition fees as long as they study within the minimum time of their degree programme plus two semesters. They only pay the Austrian Students' Union fee. All other students (non EU/EEA-nationals, non-degree students) have to pay the tuition fee of EUR 363,36 as well as the Students Union fee.

III. Admission Procedures

Passport and Visa Requirements

Students from EU/EEA member states and Switzerland coming to Austria need a valid passport to enter the country, to study and to work. Please see the information "Registration in Innsbruck" if the planned stay is longer than 4 months.

Students from other countries staying for a maximum of 6 months will either need

- a travel visa C ("Schengenvisa"): entitles you to stay in Austria and in all other Schengencountries for a maximum of 90 days; or
- a residence visa D (Aufenthaltsvisum D): for stays of at least 91 days up to a maximum of 6 months; not necessary if you are a Japanese national

You have to apply for this visa in person at the competent Austrian representative authority (embassy, consulate-general) before travelling to Austria and the visa will be issued by this authority.

Attention: A visa cannot be renewed in Austria.

Students staying for more than 6 months need a residence permit „student“ (Aufenthaltsbewilligung „Studierender“) for entry to and residence in Austria.

Please see http://www.oead.at/welcome_to_austria/legal-practical_issues/entry_to_austria for the details and application forms necessary. All documents (except passport) must be submitted with a certified German translation. This procedure can take several months as the application will be forwarded to Austria for processing.

The travel document plus visa must be carried with you at all times to prove your entitlement to residence in Austria.

The residence permit for students does not give you the right to work in Austria! This must be applied for separately and is only possible in exceptional cases.

Registration in Innsbruck

Obligatory registration as a resident

Within 3 workdays after arrival you must register as a resident of Innsbruck. To do so you need a registration form called „Meldezettel“, for the Residents Registration Office, Maria-Theresien-Straße 18, 1st floor (Mon-Thurs 8.00 – 17.30 and Fri 8.00 – 12.00) with the signature of your landlord. For the registration you will also need your passport. Non-compliance leads to a fine.

EU/EFTA and Swiss citizens staying for more than 4 months must apply for a residence permit at the Rathaus. You need a valid passport, proof of health insurance (e-card/EHIC), evidence of adequate financial resources (proof that at least € 400 go into the bank account each month, e.g. bank statement or grant confirmation) and study confirmation from the University of Innsbruck. This permit costs € 15 and is compulsory. A € 200 fine is possible!

III. Admission Procedures

Registration at the University

You go to the Erasmus desk in the University Admission Department (Studienabteilung) on the ground floor of the main building, Room 0105A (Monday – Friday 8.00-12.00 and Tuesday, Wednesday 13.30-15.30) with the Letter of Acceptance from the University of Innsbruck and any documents asked for in this letter.

Here you

1. fill in the form "Meldungsblatt" for statistical purposes and state postal address in Innsbruck
2. receive a pay slip for compulsory Students Union Membership (€ 18.-), an e-mail account, user name and password for LFU: online
3. are photographed for student ID-card

After that you

4. pay membership at university service point using cash card (activated immediately) or
5. at a bank using pay slip (takes approx. a week until activated)
6. can print all documents from LFU: online e.g. study confirmation

Equivalence of academic achievements

Non exchange students wishing to continue studies started at the home university must apply for recognition of their previous exams. The person responsible for recognition in the respective subject area at the University of Innsbruck must be contacted. This can however not be done before registration as a degree student and starting studies in Innsbruck.

German Language Requirements

Since courses are almost all held in German you must have a sufficient level of competence in German to attend lectures and pass examinations. For those coming to take part in Master Programmes held in English it is advisable to be able to communicate in German for everyday life.

III. German Language

Language test

Exchange Student

A German exam is not compulsory in advance, since your home Erasmus Coordinator has confirmed your knowledge in the Erasmus Certificate. We strongly recommend improving your German before coming to Innsbruck since lectures here will almost certainly be held in German – except when studying within a Master Programme held completely in English.

Non-exchange Student

You must supply proof of sufficient knowledge of German (an official language certificate e.g. Goethe Institute) to register as a degree student otherwise you can only be accepted as a non-degree student until you have passed the official university German language examination. With sufficient prior knowledge you can take the exam at the beginning of each semester and consequently be accepted as a degree student. As a non-degree student it is possible to visit the German course during semester and to take the exam afterwards (see below „German as a foreign language). For more information and examination dates please see <http://www.uibk.ac.at/isi/> > Prüfungen > Ergänzungsprüfungen Deutsch.

Attention: Admission to the German language course only does not automatically entitle you to enrolment as a degree student.

German language courses in summer

Preparatory courses are offered in July – August by the „Innsbrucker Hochschulkurse Deutsch“ (IHD) at the University of Innsbruck: The basic 3 weeks course (60 lessons) costs € 460 and the basic 6 weeks course (120 lessons) € 920. For more information please see: <http://www.uibk.ac.at/ihd/en/>

Erasmus German course

A German course for Erasmus incomings on 2 levels (no beginners!) - including grammar, vocabulary, reading and understanding lessons - is offered during each semester and is free of charge. A mandatory online test must be taken before semester begins to define your level.

Details on the dates and location of these courses will be given to you at the Erasmus Welcome on the first day of semester.

<http://www.uibk.ac.at/isi/index.html.en> > Language Courses > Registration > Erasmus Incomings Info

These courses are financed by the European Commission.

German as a foreign language

During each semester the course German as a Foreign Language is held on many levels (A1, A2, B1 and B2) for all foreign students at the International Language Centre of the University of Innsbruck. As a registered student the course costs € 80 for 4 hours a week and € 160 for 8 hours.

Details can be found on the Website of the International Language Centre (ISI):

<http://www.uibk.ac.at/isi/index.html.en> > Language Courses > German as a Foreign Language

III. Before leaving Innsbruck

Before leaving Innsbruck

Before you go home there are several things to do:

- Notify the Residents Registration Office (Mon-Thurs 8.00 – 17.30 and Fri 8.00 – 12.00) of your departure – during the last three days here
- If you live in student accommodation give notice of your departure, give the key back and pay any open bills (telephone etc)
- If you opened a bank account this must be closed
- Make sure you have all the documents you will need after returning to your home university, e.g Transcript of Records, confirmation of Erasmus stay. Exam results can only be generated by the students themselves by means of LFU online. If you need a signed and stamped Transcript please come to the International Relations Office
- Students of International Economics and Business Studies receive a Transcript of Records at the IWW Office

IV. Services for Incoming Students

Accommodation

Austrian Exchange Service (ÖAD)

The Austrian Academic Exchange Service (ÖAD) will do its best to organise a room for you although only a limited number of rooms (especially single rooms) are available. ERASMUS and other official exchange programme students have priority; other students can only be accommodated as long as rooms are available.

An online application is available <http://www.housing.oead.ac.at/index.asp>. The payment of a reservation deposit is compulsory otherwise you will get no room.

Please apply as soon as possible!! The rooms are allocated "first come first served".

There are double and single study-rooms; kitchen and bathroom are usually shared. Rooms are allocated after arrival of both application and reservation deposit. Rooms are let by complete semesters only and cannot be quit during the semester. If you arrive later or leave earlier, you must pay for the whole period. For organisational reasons the rental period of the winter semester includes the month of February.

After reserving a room please observe the opening times and information sent to you by the student hostel. Plan your arrival according to these times, if possible, and announce your arrival early enough either by telephone or e-mail.

Youth Hostels

If you have made no arrangements for accommodation in advance, you may choose to stay at a youth hostel for the first few days.

1. Jugendherberge Innsbruck/Youthhostel Innsbruck, Reichenauerstrasse 147
Tel: +43 (0)512 346179; e-mail: office@youth-hostel-innsbruck.at (bus R from the main station for two stops and then change to the bus O to the bus-stop „Jugendherberge“).
2. Pension St. Nikolaus/Glockenhaus, Weiherburggasse 3
Tel: +43 (0)512 286515; e-mail: innsbruck@hostelnikolaus.at (bus D from the main station and get off at the bus-stop "Schmelzergasse")

Self-organized Private Accommodation

Renting rooms or apartments on the free market is very difficult and expensive, especially when you wish to rent for less than 12 months and need furnished accommodation. According to the Tyrolean real estate business a one-room flat costs between € 500 and 600 per month. 3 months rent must be paid as a deposit in most cases.

On the website of our Students Union www.oehweb.at/service/wohnungsboerse/ you will find information about accommodation.

Another possibility is to search on the internet or by asking Erasmus students of your university already in Innsbruck especially about flat sharing („Wohngemeinschaft“ or „WG“). In the local newspaper "Tiroler Tageszeitung" and in the Innsbruck "Stadtblatt" offers for flats/rooms are advertised.

IV. Services for Incoming Students

Health Care

Health Insurance

For EU and EEC citizens

EU and EEC students need the European Health Insurance Card (EHIC).

With the card you can go directly to a doctor and be treated free of charge.

Please see „Medical Services“ for more details.

For all other countries

Students from other countries can join the Austrian Insurance for Students („Freiwillige Selbstversicherung für StudentInnen“). This insurance is available to all foreign students independent of nationality. You will need confirmation of registration as a resident of Innsbruck and as a student of the University of Innsbruck (available from LFU-online) for the application at:

Tiroler Gebietskrankenkasse
Klara-Pölt-Weg 2
A-6021 Innsbruck
For more information <http://www.tgkk.at>

© Die Fotografen

Accidents on the way to and from the university are covered by your compulsory Students' Union membership: <http://www.oeh.ac.at/studierendenversicherung>

A supermarket at the main train station opens daily from 6.00 -21.00.

Most shops and restaurants accept the credit cards „Mastercard“, „Visa“ and „American Express“. We do however recommend asking in advance.

Banks/Post Office

It is best to ask at your home bank before leaving about the cheapest way to transfer money to Austria. In Innsbruck banks are usually open approx. Monday – Friday 08.00 – 12.30 and 14.15 – 16.00. They are closed at weekends. Cash points can be found near the entrance of most banks.

Before opening a bank account ask about the conditions. Most banks offer special packages for students.

Phone costs vary according to the time of day, from 18.00–8.00, Saturdays and Sundays it is cheaper. Details can be found on the first pages of the phone book.
