

KYOTO UNIVERSITY

2024-2025

Kyoto University states its mission to sustain and develop its historical commitment to academic freedom and to pursue harmonious coexistence within the human and ecological community on this planet.

Message from the President

Kyoto University pursues international exchange and collaboration through close partnerships with institutions overseas, student and researcher exchange programs, interdisciplinary research collaboration, and a multitude of other activities. As a university that is widely connected to society and the world, it seeks to promote harmonious coexistence in the global community through international and interdisciplinary collaborative research. The creative and groundbreaking accomplishments of the university's researchers continue to garner international recognition in the form of prestigious accolades, such as the Nobel Prize, Fields Medal, and other prestigious awards.

Kyoto University's education is unique in that it fosters a creative spirit in its students by providing them with direct experience of such cutting-edge academic research, and encourages them to set their own challenges and strive to solve them through a self-reliant and independent style of learning.

Currently, multiple complex issues threaten the health and lives of all people on Earth. Such issues include the unexpectedly rapid worsening of climate change, large-scale natural disasters, and environmental degradation, as well as the escalation of international conflicts, widening economic disparity, and global pandemics. To address such issues, the university will firmly link its past achievements to its future progress, and continue to make the utmost efforts to contribute to society through the creation of new intellectual value and the cultivation of outstanding human resources.

On-site Laboratory Initiative

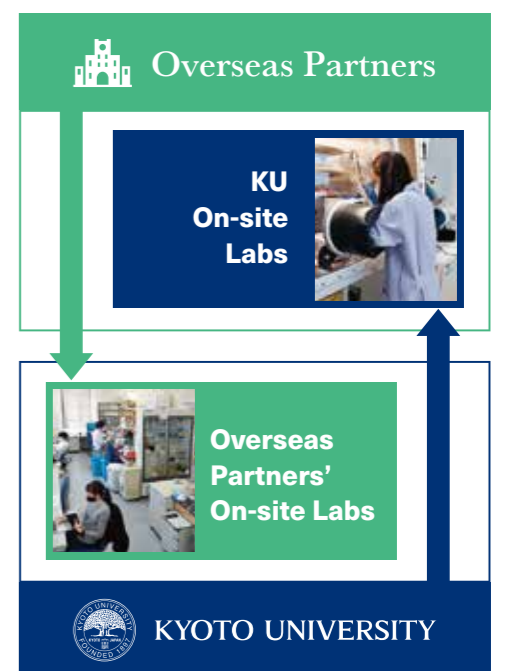

"On-site Laboratories" are locally managed laboratories established collaboratively by Kyoto University faculties/departments and overseas partners.

Aims

- Promote world-leading cutting-edge research collaboration
- Explore new research areas and promote interdisciplinary research
- Promote international research and educational exchange

Outcomes and ripple effects

- International joint research projects and co-authored publications
- Double degree programs with partner universities
- Increased recruitment of talented international students
- Promotion of academia-industry collaboration

Kyoto iUP

<https://www.iup.kyoto-u.ac.jp/>

The Kyoto University International Undergraduate Program (Kyoto iUP) is a 4.5-year international scholarship program comprising a six-month preparatory course and four years of undergraduate study. Graduating students are awarded a bachelor's degree in their chosen major. No Japanese language proficiency is required at the outset, as the program provides an intensive Japanese language component. Admission and tuition fees are exempted, and students receive a monthly merit-based scholarship of up to JPY 120,000.

In the first two years of the program (following the six-month preparatory course), students study liberal arts and sciences courses and fundamental courses in their field of specialization. Classes are taught in English and/or Japanese and are also attended by Japanese undergraduate students. The final two years of the program focus on specific subjects in the students' majors, which are taught mainly or exclusively in Japanese.

Amgen Scholars Program

The Amgen Scholars Program is a short summer program that provides scholarships for undergraduate international students to engage in diverse cutting-edge science research at leading academic institutions, including Kyoto University. The program aims to foster the next generation of innovators by providing increased opportunities for students pursuing careers in science.

Overseas Field Seminars

Overseas Field Seminars provide students with the opportunity to engage in hands-on training overseas under the close guidance of faculty members, and to learn about the history, geography, and culture of the destination country or region.

Information and Counseling Services

Information and counseling services are available for international researchers and students who have concerns about their studies or about daily life in Japan.

International Student Counseling Office

Industry-Academia Collaboration

Developing the “KyotoU Model” and Promoting Innovation through Industry-Academia Collaboration

In accordance with its institutional mission and management policies, Kyoto University has developed the “KyotoU Model” for industry-academia partnership. The KyotoU Model seeks to establish new large-scale businesses through practical cooperation between the Office of Institutional Advancement and Communications (IAC) and four university subsidiary companies: Kyoto University Original Co., Ltd. (consulting/training and education), TLO-KYOTO Co., Ltd. (technology transfer), iPS Academia Japan, Inc. (technology transfer), and Kyoto University Innovation Capital Co., Ltd. (incubation/start-up support).

The KyotoU Model aims to deliver the knowledge generated by Kyoto University to society and maximize its value to vitalize education and research.

Research Promotion and Coordination

To promote excellence in research, the Kyoto University Research Administration Center (KURA) provides faculty members with comprehensive support. Staffed by a team of knowledgeable experts in research development, KURA connects researchers in different fields to advance the development of interdisciplinary research and new research fields.
