Studying at Sabancı gives you a great opportunity to explore one of the world's largest metropolises while at the same time receiving high quality, personal education. The small sizes of the classes together with the helpful attitude of teachers and staff gives you all the necessary tools to understand the subjects in more depth than otherwise would be possible. The size of Istanbul is in contrast the opposite and brings with it almost unlimited opportunities, you can always find something that suits your personal taste. After six months, it feels like I have only been able to see a fraction of Istanbul and I doubt that the remaining four will be enough to change that feeling substantially.

ISTANBUL: A BOUNCY COSMOPOLITAN CITY

- Capital to the East Roman, Byzantine, Latin and Ottoman Empires
- 2 International airports: 1 hour away from domestic, 1-3 hours away from international attraction centers
- 2010 European Capital of Culture
- Connecting 2 continents -Europe and Asia
- House of İstanbul Biennale, İstanbul Film Festival and İstanbul Jazz Festival

CAMPUS LOCATION

- 20 minutes to Sabiha Gökçen Airport on Asian Side
- Regular bus service to 2 main city centers:
 - 4. Levent on European Side and Kadıköy on Asian Side
- 15 minutes to a large outlet mall with 200+ stores

I lived in İstanbul as an exchange student in Sabancı for one year and now that I am back to my country I have the thought that I could not have picked a better place to live. Really, İstanbul became my second home and it will always be. I have never met someone who came to this wonderful city and did not feel in love for it! The landscapes, the history, the people, the culture... everything is so incredible and amazing about it. It does not matter who you are, for sure, you will feel embraced and welcomed! In addition, in terms of academic life, Sabancı provides a high-quality education with great teachers and courses and everyone there is extremely kind and helps you a lot with all the processes involving the exchange life. I strongly recommend going to Turkey, it was one of the most beautiful experiences I have ever had.

HAND IN HAND WITH THE COMMUNITY: CIVIC INVOLVEMENT PROJECTS

This program for Participatory Democracy is designed to give students an understanding that every individual not only can, but also has a responsibility to contribute positively to society. Through the Civic Involvement Projects, young people learn that they can make a difference individually as well as collectively as a team. This is a required part of the SU curriculum as we believe learning to take an active role in understanding life's realities by addressing them is an essential aspect of high-quality higher education.

CIP has reached:

- 17216 students in social responsibility projects since 1999
 - 2102+ projects with 71270+ beneficiaries
- CULTURAL PIONEER
- Student fairs and Off Town University festival on-campus with nationally and internationally known bands.
 - One of the most important museums owned by the University, hosted exhibitions including Joan Miró, Anish Kapoor, Monet, Dali and Rodin...

Going to Sabancı for a term gave me unparalleled ability to improve my Turkish and take classes relevant to my research. Furthermore, being close to the city enabled frequent access to archives for my thesis and other opportunities to learn from internationally renowned scholars. Most importantly, however, I met friends who I know I will be in touch with for the rest of my life. My only regret is not being able to spend more time with these wonderful people. Though short, one semester at Sabancı changed my life.

What is PURE?

Sabancı University Program for Undergraduate Research (PURE) is intended for undergraduate students from all domestic and international universities who would like to pursue guided research projects. Undergraduate students at all levels can apply and they will be selected according to projects' requirements and the background of the applicant. The goal of the program is to introduce undergraduate students to real research problems early in their studies.

AN INNOVATIVE CAMPUS

SU Nanotechnology Research and Application Center (SUNUM) is becoming a key hub and leading example of 'open innovation' and 'innovation campus' in Turkey, establishing precompetitive research consortiums and strategic alliances with academic and industrial partners. SUNUM manages the translational research for the establishment of "start-up" and "spin-off" companies and the protection of intellectual property rights by patents.

We have recently established our Composite Technologies Center of Excellence as the product of an innovative university-industry partnership model which will bring together the university and industry under one roof at the same time.
