Movie night at Impulse

As the temperatures were dropping, it was time for the first WAPS indoor activity of the academic year. On Thursday the 29 September a movie night was organized at the Speaker's Corner of Impulse. The combination of drinks, bites and the movie "Everything, everywhere, all at once" offered a proper kick-off of the couch surfing season and nice informal get-together after the summer holidays. New activities will be upcoming in November, so make sure to stay tuned!

BSc and MSc student supervision

Are you getting started with supervising BSc or MSc thesis students? Would you like to know more about what is expected from you as a supervisor, or about how to interact with your student? Visit and bookmark the new *Educational Training Advice intranet group on*Supervising thesis students. The information on this page will help you on your way with supervising thesis students at WUR. It is an addition to the already existing workshop and course on student supervision, which come highly recommended! Complementary to these resources, you can participate in a peer consultation group on supervision, to benefit from the supervision experiences from fellow PhDs, share your own, as well as consult with an expert educational trainer.

New call for CCS projects

The 2 year period of funding will stop for the current CCS projects and there is a new call for proposals starting earliest January 2023. The aim is to give an opportunity to revaluate exiting plans based on progress to date and bring in new ideas and innovations which are feasible and build on existing progress or explore new applications. Collaboration within and outside WUR with researchers having expertise in stem cell technologies is encouraged. If possible proposals should multiply CCS funding through in kind contributions and grant funding. Of course a continuation of the current work is possible but a new proposal should be submitted. The deadline for submission is Friday 14 October. Please submit your proposals to loes.bugter@wur.nl for evaluation by reviewers not participating in current CCS projects or the submitted proposals. Please ask your secretary for the application form.

Life Sciences Data Integration Challenge (24-28 October '22 – location: Wageningen Campus)

Organized by Robert Smith & Maria Suarez Diez (Laboratory of Systems and Synthetic Biology, Wageningen University) and The Graduate School VLAG

Current and future scientific problems require multi-disciplinary solutions and research teams composed of members from broad domain backgrounds. As an educational simulation of such an experience, the Life Sciences Data Integration Challenge 2022 is targeted at PhD candidates from life science, biotechnology, and bioinformatics fields. Over 5 days, participants will form multi-disciplinary teams to analyse a research problem using statistical and mathematical modelling pipelines, with the aim of uncovering new insights and observations. On the final day, a panel of judges will determine the winners!

If you wish to learn more about participating, or if you would like to supply a data problem to be analysed in the challenge, then please get in touch! Information about the final projects being used in the challenge will be revealed at a later date.

Registration for this challenge is open!!!!

TedX Wageningen University - United for Change

Call for collaborators! Showcase your creativity at the next TedX Wageningen University event!

The next TedX Wageningen University is coming up on 5 November 2022. This year's theme is United for Change. The Event Experience team is looking for WUR PhD candidates or members of Wageningen-based start-ups to collaborate for the stage design of this year's event. The idea is to come up with a physical representation of your project, which we can use to decorate the stage (and perhaps the event venue too). Think: a real-life Tree of Life, a carbon-capture prototype, an insect hotel, real-time poacher detection technology, a hydroponic farm... the options are endless! We will support you to bring your idea to life, and together we can showcase your work on the day of the event.

Since TedX is run by a group of volunteers, your contribution would also be voluntary. Interested? Reach out to info@tedxwur.com and tell us a bit about yourself and your project. We look forward to hearing from you!
