This list contains the batches of commercial and in house diagnostic test kits and reagents to be used in the framework of either the 'Regeling Erkennen Veterinaire Laboratoria' (REVL) (wetten.nl - Regeling - Regeling erkenning veterinaire laboratoria - BWBR0045052 \(overheid.nl\)) and the 'Protocol Bestrijding IBR en BVD (BIB)' (www.zuivelnl.org).

In the framework of this 'Regeling' and 'Protocol', only test kits and reagent which have undergone a batch control by the competent authorities are allowed to be used. In the framework of the 'Regeling', the competent authority is the National Reference Laboratory (NRL) of the country where the private laboratory is established. For the 'Protocol', the competent authority is the Dutch NRL. For more information, check out the 'Regeling' and 'Protocol' through the links above.
